Message of the Chairperson

Sindh Village Development Program (SVDP) is a new entry in the list of non-for-profit, non-government organizations working on social development in Sindh province. It has just completed its one year tenure, and this is first story of the struggle undertaken by SVDP. We started our activities from August 2019, and it is indeed an inspiring and extraordinary journey which is full of enthusiasm, passion and commitment of SVDP's team. Moreover, the volunteers we mobilized in the villages are great strength to our movement of owning and developing our respective villages.

In a short span of time, SVDP has emerged as a reputable and volunteerism driven organization in Sindh province that is serving to the voiceless and marginalized communities in remote rural areas. Through SVDP is an integrated village development initiative, but its major focus remains in education, health, environment protection and introducing and practicing new livelihood options.

Furthermore, it is noteworthy that the features of a model village are appearing in Bajara as the time passes. Few of them such as tuition classes of English and Math, computer education, vocational center, accelerating girls' education, environment protection through tree plantation have recognized and appreciated at local as well as international levels. Apart from this, the scope of those activities is expanding day by day. That is a good sign indeed and it encourages us all to intervene in other villages if sponsors show their interest.

On the behalf of the SVDP Board, I am indebted to our donors and supporters for their continuous support and their great trust in our skills and competences. Finally, I am grateful to SVDP's Board of directors and general body for their continuous support and guidance.

Ali Gohar Turk

Chairperson Board of Directors

Foreword

Sindh Village Development Program (SVDP) has completed its first year's journey, and it is our great pleasure to present SVDP annual progress report for year 2019-2020. The focus of the reporting period remained on institutional building and awareness raising with special emphasis on women sensitization, mobilization and their skills development. The role of the community regarding ownership and execution of SVDP's interventions in Bajara as well as in the other villages is incredible and for that we are highly thankful to the volunteers and the community members.

While working in Bajara (Taluka Sehwan), we have expanded our scope as well. We intervened in Union Council Jhangara by establishing a free tuition center in village Shaikh Dhaman situated at the bank of Manchar Lake. Prior to that we did tree plantation over there, setup medical camps and distributed warm cloths and ration items during the lock down.

Apart from that we have started to support a community based school in village Nandhi Therhi in Union Council Bajara where a lady teacher has been appointed. Moreover, SVDP has established a solar supported computer lab in Govt. Boys High School Gachero Old, Taluka Moro, District Naushahero Feroze. Additionally, different activities are undertaken in the village in collaboration with local volunteers.

We observed that development is closely linked with consciousness otherwise it is just a change that replaces the previous situation. However, we carried-out activities on information and knowledge development. Further, large number of awareness raising events were organized in the villages.

With regard to spirit and enthusiasm, SVDP team works with high commitment, sincerity and dedication. It has made difference on limited resources at grassroots level.

Last but not least, we are highly thankful to Turk Family of Bajara. All the services that we are catering is not possible without the support of Dr. Aijaz Hussain Turk, senior member of Sindhi Association of North America (SANA). Moreover, we are thankful to Akhuwat Foundation for its generous support regarding ration distribution during the COVID 19 lockdown. In addition, I am grateful to our team members who work very hard to materialize the vision of the organization into reality.

Mehran Mallah

Executive Director

SVDP: A Holistic and Integrated Rural Development Program

Sindh Village Development Program (SVDP) is a non-government, non-for-profit, non-political, non-racial independent civil society organization which believes in holistic and integrated development of the people, by the people, for the people. SVDP envisages the word 'People' as marginalized, submissive, voiceless, vulnerable, oppressed and neglected masses. It strives for improvement and progress of the people living in Sindh without any discrimination and biasness. In this connection, SVDP envisions that development happens in diversity rather than isolation and segregation. In addition, SVDP's the main focus is to empower the neglected segments of the society especially children, women, people with disabilities and elderly.

It is one of the core organizations endeavoring to revive as well as to promote volunteerism in Sindh. SVDP gives high priority to Inclusion, ownership and participation for improving the lives of the people. It believes that big difference can be made through mobilization of local resources, active participants and literate people of Sindh.

SVDP aims to educate, enlighten and empower the vulnerable segments of the society in Sindh through active, informed, and organized volunteer participants. It is an integrated rural development program.

COVID-19 Emergency Response

COVID-19 Emergency Response: Ration bags distributed among 1234 ultra-poor households in Jamshoro and Hyderabad Districts

Life has drastically changed far and wide. The Coronavirus outbreak is not just an epidemic, it is also a global pandemic which has paralyzed the life in every nook and corner of the world. The term "Covid-19" portrays that "diseases know no borders". Since the virus started spreading rapidly, the government of Sindh announced lockdown in the province, yet not took serious and coherent efforts to provide ration to the people who were dependent on their daily earnings. In such situation, Sindhi Association of North America (SANA) came at the frontline and responded to the challenges. The SANA members, led by Dr. Aijaz Hussain Turk, announced SEHCAR Funds, and after raising funds it started supporting the organization's working groups on grassroots level in Sindh Province.

Since the situation got worsened in Sindh due to COVID-19, and eventually after lockdown, Sindh Village Development Program (An initiative of Sindhi Association of North America -SANA) appeared on the frontline to support victims in terms of providing ration.

However, the continuous lockdown affected the lives of daily wage earners. Upholding the spirit of the lockdown and realizing the ground realities, SVDP adopted two-pronged strategy- educate the people on health and hygiene, and to distribute one month ration among needy and poor households. In this way, SVDP with the financial assistance of Turk Family and in collaboration with Akhuwat Foundation distributed one month Ration bags among 934 ultra-poor households in UC Bajara, Jhangara and in Sehwan Town, District Jamshoro. Moreover, with the support of Dr. Valeed Shaikh and his family 300 Ration bags were distributed in village Khathar near Hyderabad.

Emergency Response Strategy

The organization with meager resources remained active in mitigation situations. The staff as well as volunteers conducted awareness sessions on social distancing and other protective measures to stop the spread of the virus. In addition, masks and sanitizers were freely provided, and people were guided on how to use the protective materials. It is noteworthy that all the activities were led by female volunteers. They managed hand wash sanitizers and masks what they made in the Marvi Vocational Center, Bajara.

Apart from that, most of the distribution events were organized in the evening.

Community Assessment Survey

Sindh Village Development Program believes in transparency, fairness and accountability. With regard to COVID-19 pandemic, SVDP started community

Verification of the Data

After the identification of deserving people through the assessment survey, bodies of committees were formed from local communities consisting of neutral people including women selected from each and every village. The criteria for the selection of deserving people included laborers dependent on daily wages, widows, single elderly, ultra poor and sick.

Avoiding Substandard Data

In order to collect and assess the accurate data, the female teams were involved in the survey for the distribution of domestic and other needy things. They went door to door in the villages and collected the required information to avoid sub-assessment survey prior to the Ration distribution. The female teams went door to door and collected the data of deserving households.

standard data accordingly. Moreover, local stakeholders were also engaged in the relief work, and frequent meetings were arranged with them so that purpose of the coordination was to avoid duplication in Ration distribution.

Token-based Distribution

The tokens were given to the deserving people after finalization of the survey lists. They were stamped including necessary details of the beneficiaries. The Tokens were checked on the delivery time. The first identification of a beneficiary was the serial number written on that.

Saving the Packing Charges

SVDP team members did not depend on the vendor rather they themselves packed the ration material. The Female Office of SVDP was converted into a warehouse where female volunteers sorted out the ration material, prepared lists, packed the stuff, made packets and wrote on them the names of the organizations. In that regard, as per packing rate of the market which was Rs. 50, the female volunteers saved Rs. 46,650 of 933 Ration bags.

Categorizing Families

SVDP did not follow the phrase - "One size fits all" during the distribution of Ration. On the contrary, the team divided households in three categories- Small size, Medium size and large size. The small size of a household consisted of 1 to 3 members;

Medium size consisted of 4 to 6 members; and large size consisted of 7 to 15 members. Afterwards, the ration bags were prepared according to the size of the family. In that way, SVDP teams accessed to more than the targeted households.

Practicing Relief Guidelines

In rural areas, it was too difficult to implement the international recognized protocols and guidelines regarding COVID 19 Emergency. But SVDP accepted the challenge and worked in three dimensions- free distribution of masks and sanitizers, and the team itself started sanitizing the people to keep them safe and sound.

With regard to distribution of Ration bags, the team put on masks and sanitized themselves before the activity. The beneficiaries were asked to stand in white circles and remain at the distance from each other while receiving the Ration bags. More importantly, SVDP management decided to hide the identity of the people during receiving the ration bags because the organization did not want to show the sufferings and sorrows of white collar and the beneficiaries.

In addition, a sanitizer spray was placed at the main entrance in SVDP Office and a Notice was glued on the wall advising the staff and volunteers to use sanitizer before entering the office.

Free distribution of Masks and Sanitizers

The female volunteers of village Bajara prepared hundreds of masks and made hand wash sanitizers at Marvi Vocational & Training Center established by SVDP. First, they collected small empty bottles from the dwellers of the village and then washed those carefully. Those bottles were later used to prepare sanitizers which were distributed freely among the people thereafter.

Leading Role of Female Volunteers

Sindh Village Development Program has mobilized and organized its female volunteers to response the lockdown emergency, and in this regard, different activities were undertaken in village Bajara.

They were part of the whole process including surveying, verification, collecting quotations, purchasing, sorting out the rations items, packing, distribution and management.

Honoring the Volunteers

The volunteers of Bajara did great job during the distribution of Ration campaign in Sehwan Taluka. They were involved in assessment surveys, making lists of beneficiaries, unloading and loading the ration material, sorting out the Ration items, packing and distribution. At the end of the campaign, an Aftar Party was arranged on May 15, 2020 at both offices for female and male volunteers. They were briefed on status of the ration distributed by SVDP.
